INIYAUDAIYAM CHARITABLE TRUST (IUCT)

("Transforming challenges into opportunities for the betterment of communities")

IUCT, an NGO since 2004, focuses on children and young women from marginalized and nomadic communities in Thiruvallur, Chennai, Chengalpattu, and Kanchipuram districts. We work and emphasize on education, health, and economic empowerment for migrant communities, reaching out to 1, 20,000 people in and around Avadi. Additionally, IUCT supports groups like widows and single women, set up small business and promote human and women's rights.

IUCT is a dynamic force, Fostering holistic development across diverse sectors.

VALUE BASED DEVELOPMENT EDUCATION (VBDE)

“ We believe that education is the most powerful weapon you can use to change the world and the most effective way to break out of the cycle of poverty.”

IUCT focus on ensuring quality, equitable, and free access to education for children of marginalized communities from migrant community and slum dwellers. We strive to ensure that every child, especially those from vulnerable communities, receive the opportunity to build a better future through education that promotes social education and awareness, aiming to uplift the educational standards of children.

300 children have benefitted through Remedial Evening centres, by various workshops and activities are conducted to succeed with 100% Pass Result. Awareness is generated amongst parents and local communities about the importance of education as 80% of parents are illiterate and 72% of children in the beneficiaries are first generation school going children.

We also conduct regular counselling sessions to encourage parents to send their children especially girls to school and help them participate in various activities conducted by IUCT. The evening capacity classes provide educational assistance, nutritious food and medical support and educational scholarship for higher secondary education and College studies. This prevents them from school drop-out, and reenrol in schools and colleges for their continue education
